

Escape to Tahiti

Scenario

Tahiti awaits! The sun is shining, the waves gently lap the shore, the palm trees are swaying and the umbrella drinks are cold.

Agent Andie has her plane ticket for today, April 10, 2019, and leaves in 1 hour to get on her way to the airport for a seven day vacation in paradise. Will she make the plane in time or will she miss her paradise adventure????

Andie's problem is that she is trapped in a house full of chaos to navigate and that's where you come in. We've put you together in a crack team of Family Consumer Sciences specialists to break Andie out of the house and escape to paradise for a week of fun and relaxation.

Your escape will involve dealing with a moody teen, cleaning out the refrigerator, packing the suitcase, getting your passport from the lock box, setting the house alarm and getting your prescription medication refilled. But be prepared, it will take all of your wits and knowledge to help Andie escape and get on her way to Tahiti.

In your vacation File Envelope is some Tahitian spending money that Andie has saved up to use while on the island. As you proceed through the tasks to escape, you may have to spend some of your money or you may be able to add to your money through special activities. Andie wants as much cash as possible so be wise and try to save as much spending money as you can.

First, choose your character card. You each have different skills to lead the group to solve challenges. Each task card will tell you which specialist needs to lead that challenge. When you think you have the solution to the challenge, find the Travel Agent. If you correctly solve the challenge, you will receive the next step to helping Andie escape. If it is incorrect, you will pay a penalty out of your spending money and have 5 minutes added to your time as well as have to go back and try again. If you just can't solve a challenge, raise your hands and the Tour Guide will come give you a hint, but beware, you will have to pay for the hint out of your spending money. As you work through the challenges be sure to use all of the resources around you.

There will be special activities along the way as well. Listen for instructions and opportunities.

Finally, your whole team must have a group picture taken at the photo booth. Best group photo wins an award so make it fun!

So let's get started. We will pass out the first task card, keep it face down until we tell you to start. Before Andie can leave she must clean out the refrigerator, so Chef Mixmaster, take over your team and read the task card for the clues to get you started.

ON YOUR MARK, GET SET, GO!