Knox County 4-H Clubs will offer day camps and workshops to complement many of the standard 4-H projects, to provide enrichment activities and to prepare for displays and exhibits for the Tennessee Valley Fair. The day camps and workshops will introduce youth to various aspects of developing and perfecting skills and hobbies. During the day camps and workshops, too, there will be plenty opportunities for youth to interact with other youth to share knowledge and friendships.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?
The University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Offers its programs to all eligible persons, regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, age or disability. The day camps and workshops are offered to interested boys and girls who have completed the fourth grade and to those in the fifth grade through twelfth grade. Everyone who attends must have good behavior and is willing to participate fully in the learning activities.

COST AND FEES
Instructions are provided by the 4-H staff and volunteers of the Knox County Extension who provides leadership for 4-H programs. Participants will pay a fee for materials for some of the workshops and provide their own materials for others.

Participants are responsible for lunch each day. The lunch may be brought in or purchased at “Mabel’s,” the campus cafeteria, or make other arrangements. Vending machines are located nearby where snacks and drinks may be purchased.
