Forage analysis

Improve your hay production and submit a forage sample! Our office will even come out to gather a sample on your property.

The University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture will present its Steak and Potatoes Field Day on Tuesday, August 6th. This event is free to attend and geared towards Plateau-based agricultural enterprises.

The Plateau AgResearch and Education Center is also hosting the 11th annual Fall Gardeners' Festival on Tuesday, August 27th with educational workshops ranging from landscaping to gardening.

Contact our office to schedule your Beef Quality Assurance certification (BQA), which is due at the time of application for the TDA funded Tennessee Agricultural Enhancement Program.

Family & Consumer Sciences / TNCEP

It is canning season! Come by our office to have your pressure canner lid tested! Contact the office for delicious recipes! Remember, canning books and recipes published before 1994 may be out-of-date.

Cooking Matters for Teens is a hands-on opportunity for teens to learn how to cook, healthy, low cost meals, food safety, and budgeting. Teens will also receive ingredients from the day's recipe to take home and prepare for their families. There will also be weekly door prizes! The schedule is available under the "Upcoming Events and Important Dates."

4-H Youth Development

4-H Poultry Show & Sale

On Friday, August 23rd ~1:30pm we will have pens of 3 Barred Rock pullets available. These pullets were born on March 18th and raised by our very own Scott County 4-H'ers. Come and bid at the sale to support our program and call for more info.
